- Anticipate the weekly high or low to form between Sunday's open and Tuesday's London Open. When this fails to unfold, the high or low will likely post in between Tuesday London Open & Wednesday London Open.
- Selling weekly highs and buying weekly lows places huge reward to risk in your hands.
- The weekly high or low forms between Sunday's open & Tuesday's London Open 80% of the time.
- The weekly chart and daily chart are gold mines if you know how to mine them.
- Extend the open of the week throughout the entire week or at least to Wednesday. We can use it to determine a buy or a sell zone.
- In bullish environments, the smart money is accumulating long positions when price dips below the weekly opening price.
- Combining higher time frame buy & sell programs with COT data, we can trade with high odds of catching explosive Forex profits.
